

<http://wittingshire.blogspot.com/index.html>

Frank Hanna

VATICAN CITY (CNS) - A donation to the Vatican by a U.S. businessman enabled Pope Benedict XVI to peruse a few pages of the oldest existing copy of the Gospel of St. Luke and one of the oldest copies of the Gospel of St. John....

The Bodmer Papyrus XIV-XV, handwritten in Greek around the year 200, contains "about half of each of the Gospels of Luke and John," Cardinal Tauran explained....

Claudio Piazzoni, vice prefect of the Vatican Library, told Catholic News Service Jan. 23 that the new acquisition includes the oldest existing copy of the Lord's Prayer, which is found in Luke 11:1-4.

The Atlanta businessman who acquired the papyrus and donated it to the Vatican is Frank J. Hanna III.

I'd never heard of Frank Hanna until a couple of months ago, and now he's everywhere--at least everywhere at my house--and I've taken quite a liking to him. He's in the documentary Jonathan is working on now, "The Call of the Entrepreneur." (Here's the trailer.)

Yeah, it wasn't enough for Jonathan to tackle naturalism and Darwinism. Now he's going after communism and socialism, too.

Most guys his age just buy a sports car.

posted by Jonathan or Amanda Witt at 6:47 AM url _